Assaulted by Daniel O'Connell and Richard Lalor Shiel, he retorted in speeches which are yet cited as splendid efforts of parliamentary eloquence.

In 1833 he became Secretary of State for the Colonies, and under his effected in the West Indies. In 1834 his father succeeded to the Earldom of Derby, and he became, by courtesy, Lord Stanley. In 1854 he was summoned by writ to the House of Peers, and assumed the leadership of the Conservative party in that body. In 1845 Sir Robert Peel resolved to adopt a free trade policy, and Lord Stanley withdrew from the Cabinet and became the leader of the protectionist opposition. He succeeded to the Earldom in 1851. He twice declined the premiership previous and tured in the county of Johnston, hundred miles, paying $18.50 per up to 1851, but in 1852 he was called by the lady who was offering them head, and working them at a profit by the Queen to construct a Cabinet for sale. Negro Lawyers. I

They are having queer times down in South Carolina with negro lawyers and legislators. The negro Leg islature at Columbia last year was droll enough. Tourists from all parts of the country stopped there to see the black Solons, as they would look in at a menagerie. But the way the laws are administered from day to day is so extraordinary that a white man in South Carolina Courts | bills were found against certain might wonder whether he had emigrated to Liberia, or was a citizen of a mongrel Republic. A letter from Edgefield thus speaks of the Circuit Court now in session:

"Tuesday was occupied in orgapizing the juries. The grand jury consisted of eight whites and eleven blacks; p. tit jury, No. 1, was composed entirely of blacks, and No. 2 had a considerable sprinkling. Several negro constables were employed about the Court House. Solicitor P. L. Wiggins was present for the first time, though it has been nearly a year since his election to office. He is a Northern man, resides at Beaufort, and it is said, was buying cotton there at the time of his election. R. B. Elliott, negro, was present, and, it is reported, at the request of Archibald Alexander. His uncle the solicitor, to assist in the discharge of his duties."

On Wednesday, the Court was oc-cupied in the trial of the case of the State vs. Thomas W. Blease, for the of being, perhaps, the most eminanurder of John A Rutherford. These were both white men, and the jury The stock is, it is needless to say, consisted of nine white men and three blacks.

But, whenever, and wherever, you find a merchant who advertises liberally, and takes a number will never cheat you.

Standard. FARE.—In order to accommodate all who desire to attend the Fair at Wilmington next month, Col. Fremont has reduced the Fair on the Wilmington and Weldon road to a very low figure.

The railroad fare in the South, as a general thing, is entirely too auspices the abolition of slavery was high. If reduced to a reasonable rate there would be more travel and the roads would do a heavy business. The same may be said in regard to treights. Bring down your prices, gentlemen, and let the roads fulfil their intended mission—to benefit the people.

He was born March 23, 1799. that he will not take exorbitant rate actress in a Berlin theatre, and his father at present is engaged in the livery stable business in the lowest part of the city of London. Ainsley's right name is Radford, and as a valet to a wealthy French gentleman in Paris acquired his education -an education which has so assisted him in palming himself upon the too fall, at the end of 30 days, his credulous American people. It apsimiles will turn into frowns, and pears, furthermore, that his true your last bed, if such a thing were character was known to Mrs. Martin, allowable, would be sacrificed to mother of the bride, before the mar-satisfy that little bill. bade him her house and annulled the engagement; but the infatuated girl clung to the swindler, continued to meet him clandestinely, and finally married him at the house of her aunt in New York. The affair has created, as might be supposed, quite a sensation among the upper tendom of Gotham and vicinity.

> A SIGNIFICANT FACT.—That the natural indolence of the Southern negro is a formidable bar to his elevaion and progress, even under his improved condition, is illustrated every day. A fact deserving of notice is incidentally mentioned by the New Orleans Times, (Republican,) of the 17th instant, which speaks of the arrival of a large number of men upwards of 100, from Illinois, to work on the sugar plantations of Messrs. Walker & Bronson, Bronson & Thompson, J. B. Lyon & Co.. and Gravenburg, on the Bayou Teche.-They were brought from Chicago to New Orleans for $18.50 each, by contract with the Illinois Central Railroad. They are hired especially to take off the sugar crop, Think of sending for white laborers several except under compulsion? New York Republican.

Rev. Mr. Spurgeon, the well known Baptist preacher, used to be famous for his comic sermons and lectures; but increasing years, corpulency and a wife and children have a little sotion of different kinds of bells to illustrate his subject. Among others, there was a large slarm bell fixed in the roof, which the reverend joker frequently pulled.

VEGETABLE MANURE -- Market gardeners, who use the most effective manures without regard to cost, are small purchasers of guano and the bi-chemical fertilizers. They depend on compost made of vegetable refuse, thus creating a condition of soil similar to that of fresh cleared and heavy timbered lands.

The Cincinnati Enquirer states that the contemplated prize fight between Allen and McCoole went into training at the Abbey, a few miles out of St. Louis, about six weeks ago, and has been working very hard. Allen has taken to his work finely, and says that at present he is in a better condition than ever before. He is confident of his ability to whip McCoole, and is anxiously awaiting the day chosen for the encounter.-He now weighs 180 pounds, and will enter the ring between 170 and 175 pounds. Mr. Allen states that this will be his last fight, no matter whether he wins or loses.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

OPLENDID LAND FOR SALE. On TUESDAY the 7th day of December next, at noon, at the Court House in Char lotte, I will sell a tract of land, lying one mile east of the city of Charlotte, containing 1564 acres, one half of which is under cultivation, and the rest is heavily timbered .-This is really a treet of first-rate land, the soil is good, adapted to corn, cotton and tobacco, and the timber a'one, being so near the city, is of great value. Three large tobacco barns are on the premises. It is perhaps, the most valuable tract that will be offered near the city for years.

Silk Mixed Business Suits at H B. Emanuel's.

Yesterday, we saw a pardon granted by the Governor to one King, who was convicted at the last term of the Court for shooting a man named Vino. It seems that the parties had had a quarrel, and some time after, Vino, in going home, passed through King's field near his house, who, when he saw him, King got his gun and deliberately shot him, wounding him quite badly. For this he was tried, found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars. There are no extenuating circumstances in the case, unless it is that King is a member of the League The Governor's pardon not only remitted the fine, but the costs. This is a wonderful age, is nt it? and | an old maid's mirror. Holden a model Governor.

BOLD ROBBERY. - We regret to state that the residence of W. J. Yates, Esq., was robbed on Thursday night, between dark and nine o'clock, while himself and wife were absent. A large quantity of bed clothing such as sheets, quilts, comforts, counterpanes, blankets, bolster and pillow cases, bolsters, pillows, &c., were taken from the rooms on the second story. It is supposed that the rogue or rogues secreted himself or themselves in the house before the doors were locked. We have been particular in enumerating the kind of articles stolen, in order that if any person should hear of such, they may report their information to Mr. Yates.
